

Important MCQs
For upcoming Staff Nurse
AIIMS Recruitment Exam

- Hyper pyrexia means temperature
(a) 107°F (b) 105°F
(c) 104°F (d) 103°F
- Infection prevention nursing called
(a) Barrier Nursing
- Oral temperature contraindicated
(a) Mouth surgery (b) Child
(c) Psychiatry patient (d) All of above
- Head injury bandage an
(a) Capline (b) Circular
(c) Spiral (d) All of above
- Best way prevent hospital acquired infection
(a) Frequent proper hand hygiene
- The amount of solution used for Evacuant
Enema—500-1000 ml
- Instrument used for visualize anus and rectum
—Proctoscope
- Black tarry stool—Malina
- Presence of blood in urine—Hematuria
- Which is most reliable temperature—Oral
- Sigh and symptoms of hypokalemia—
Abdominal distention
- 2000 ml of N administered over 12 hours drop factor 15 and calculated drop—41 drops
- Position used during administration of supportory—Left lateral position
- In which position patient won't lying down—
Rose position
- In fowler's position the head end elevated about—45-60°
- Which position not suitable for respiration—
Prone
- Common hospital acquired infection—UTI
- Common organism for UTI—E.coli
- Which of the drug used for anaphylaxis—
Adrenaline
- Measurement of RT tube—Tip of nose ear tragus to Xiphi sternum.
- Lack of oxygen to tissue—Hypoxia
- Route of BCG vaccine—Intra dermal
- Washerman test used for—Genital Wart
- In diarrhea important factor is—Frequency of stool.
- Constipation is defined as—Passage of stool less 3 times in a week.
- Normal potassium level—3.5 to 5.3
- Thermometer cleaned by—Tape water
- Wound dressing done by—Media and surgical asepsis
- Intentional tort—Giving information about patient in mass media.
- Malpractice—fletun to do the duty.
- Insulin route—Subcutaneous
- Prevent DVT—Active and passive exercise